

Achieving Destiny : An Inspiring Talk

Hello, a warm welcome to my first article.

Talking about motivation and inspiration I like motivating and inspiring people for new things and success in life.

Coming to myself I am Adnan Memon, gaining knowledge in diploma mechanical engineering.

Let's come to point of topic

I am dividing my article in two parts

- > A spark to new flame of hope (part 1)
- > Money product or byproduct (part 2)

Due to length of part 1 second part will be shared separately soon

Part 1 : Lets give a spark to fire blowing in your soul

Some years almost 3 years ago I read about an incident that a guy studying in 12th committed suicide after results.

The full story is something like this That boy pointed for becoming doctor after 12. He set a goal of 98 %, based on this he fixed college and was set for studying further.

He studied a lot, did smart work, hardwork, every work to conquer his goal.

Results declared; 96 % and he committed suicide. Why??? Because he wasn't liable for MMBS admission and was not able to conquer his goal.

>Coming to my views and lets light a spark
Assume you are virat kohli, the run machine okk!!!

Condition of field is such that there are no wickets yes you read correct no wickets, no wicketkeeper, and no fielders on ground.

On other side is Life, yes life is blowing chances, opportunities not balls.

You have to hit chances and make it reach and cross boundary that is reach success.

Life balls first chance in form of 10th or 12th exams suppose you miss it, remember there's no wicket which results nothing. If you hit It would have been better, you didn't still its good. Life will give you second chance soon.

For these missed chance will you commit suicide? If you are parents, will you ask your child to die?

Life bowls second chance you miss it, no problem!

Life bowls 3rd bowl, you come up on front foot take full strength on your hands hitting a six Completing quota of all missed.

Now when you come up at this level two things come up here, one your confidence level goes high, leading to complete further targets.

Other thing some people come out with blown wide chest these stops further success. This is same as person with failure sits down thinking all time about his failure. This all are weight for earth of no use.

100 baat ki e baat Don't stay ideal neither depressed nor in pride, continue facing opportunities and keep concentrating on life,don't forgot to remember your creator.
